

THE CALIFORNIA SENATORSHIP.

The California senatorship is now up and for sale to the highest bidder.

It looks as if an effort was being made to elect a man who would personally be as obnoxious as possible to Senator Stanford. This man would be M. H. De Young if anybody and if any one wished to give the people of California a slap at the same time, they could easily kill two birds with one stone.

If Mr. De Young wins it will be with the help of Huntington.

Estee has been promised the place several times by the C. P. R. R. company, but they have once more chucked him overboard. The Spreckles sack will fight De Young and fight him to a finish. Felton has vast wealth and is blooded to spend it. If he succeeds, some of the members will be better off financially than before.

After the sacks clash awhile the dead lock will break like an immense ripened carbuncle, and the people of California will begin to disinfect their premises.

While the auction is going on it might be a good idea to openly sell the certificate to the highest bidder, from the steps of the Capitol and turn the proceeds over to the State.

Under this plan men who wanted the place wouldn't be out a cent if they didn't get it.

A DISGRACEFUL SIGHT.

Yesterday a funeral train passed through the State of Nevada, bearing the remains of the late Senator Hearst.

There were nine cars in all. The two first cars contained the remains of the honored dead, and the rest, the junketing party which rung in on the funeral as "mourners" and came out from Washington to see the Coast and have a good time.

While there was silence and mourning in the car occupied by Mrs. Hearst, there was poker, wine and hilarity in the others, and so the train glided through the sagebrush disgusting many of the dead man's friends, who years ago had known and respected him in this State, the State where he began to carve out his fortunes. These shameless and disgraceful junketing trips should be done away with by Congress.

The present one cost $30,000 of public money, and was alike regarded as shameless and disgusting by the relatives of the deceased as well as the country at large.

The Stevenson Will Case.

The attorneys for plaintiffs in the Stevenson will contest produced a physician's certificate yesterday showing that Mr. Christian (the witness by whom plaintiffs excepted to show that a codicil had been seen on the late Governor C. C. Stevenson's will) was sick and unable to come to Carson, the case was continued until Monday. If the witness does not appear at that time, Judge Rising and Attorneys Coffin and Woodburn will go to San Francisco and hear the evidence of Christian.

T. J. Swift, Minister to Japan and author of "Robert Great House," the best novel ever written by a Pacific Coaster, is dead. He was a man of extraordinary attainments.

The Enterprise calls the secret ballot law "the boss bill." On the contrary the bosses are all kicking because it passed.

A list of letters remaining un-called for in the Carson City P. O. March 9-1891. Ladies list Mrs. A. M. Bulkely. Gentleman list M. J. Cameron, C. W. Hunchfield, Frank McKorkle, Geo. Russell, G. R. Watkins, U. Martell, R. S. Rodman P. M.

At last accounts Estee led in the California Senatorial contest.

John Bath was very low last evening.

Miss Bella Preush fatally shot herself in Virginia yesterday.
